

Jute's debut CD "a violent narcotic" manages to weave a variety of influences and colors into a beautiful river of sound. The hypnotic beats are drenched in sensual vocals and sonic textures.

Altar Magazine declared:

"...this is Jute, not one of a million other bands."

If you like: Massive Attack, DJ Shadow, Cocteau Twins, or for any one who appreciates ambient, tribal and ethereal disciplines and imprints like Netzwerk and Projekt.

Listeners have said:

"Seductive and intense"

"Powerful"

"Heavy yet blissful and delicate"

"Intelligent"

"Complex and Mesmerizing"

REVIEWS:

"Think cerebral. Think exotic. Think paradise. Think ecstasy. Imagine a drugged-out, post-industrial sound so addictive, so intoxicating, that the senses welcome the sensual rhythms of enrapture." --digitalartifact.org

"There is something so sacred about Jute's music, not just in the celestial feel, but in the reaction it provokes." --indie-music.com

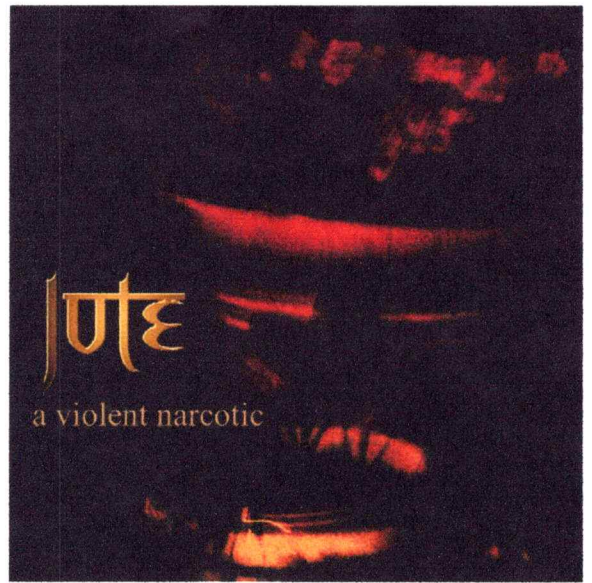

"This is the type of music you could easily find backing a David Lynch movie." --bestfemalemusicians.com

"...sort of like a drug hit but without the health risks and illegality." --halo-17.net

"...it's one of the fresher breezes to blow out of Chicago lately." --Maximum Ink
